NEWARK, OHIO, FRIDAY EVENING, JANUARY 21, 1921

OLD AGE PENSION IS PROPOSED IN
BILL INTRODUCEDWould Pay $5 Weekly to Persons Reaching Age
Of 65.Measure Has Backing of Organized Labor In Ohio.

Columbus, Jan. 21.—An old age pension bill, identical to one introduced in the last session and left on the calendar in the 83rd assembly adjourned, was introduced in the house today by Representative J. N. Chadwell of Jefferson county.

The bill is the same as recommended by the health and old age pension commission appointed by Governor Cox during his second term as governor. It provides payment for a pension of $5 a week to persons after they have become 65 years of age, providing they are not receiving an income of $350 a year or over. The applicant for a pension must be a citizen of the United States and must have been a resident of the state for 15 years. He must also be of good moral character and must not have accepted public charity within one year previous to his application. Professional beggars and tramps are barred.

The pension board is created to consist of four members appointed by the governor for a term of four years and at a salary of $4,500 a year. County boards of welfare are established in each county to be composed of a probate judge, a justice of the common pleas court and the county auditor. The boards would employ a welfare director, one-half of whose salary would be paid out of the state fund. All applications would be made to the county welfare board, which would pay through this board, with provisions for an appeal to the state commission.

The old age pension bill is backed by organized labor and many welfare organizations of the state. It was introduced by Speaker R. R. Bechtel left Columbus today for Athens and Gallipolis for an inspection of Ohio University and the state hospital at Athens and the hospital for epileptics at Gallipolis.

A committee of state officials and legislators is planning a trip beginning next Wednesday to inspect colleges and universities in the middle west with a view to securing betterments at Ohio State University. The party will include Lieutenant Governor Brown, Senator William Miller and Representative Harry Carpenter, chairman of the senate committee on finance and education, Attorney General John G. Price, State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy and Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State University. They will visit the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, the University of Illinois at Urbana, the University of Wisconsin at Madison, and the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis.

The military affairs committee of the lower house endorsed the proposal by a unanimous vote after a public hearing on the resolution in the house last night. The committee, which includes the military committee of the house, the American Legion, Dr. C. H. McFarland, superintendent of the Cleveland city hospital and Colonel Simeon Nash, pleaded for the proposal. In view of the fact that the military committee had already decided to ask the attorney general for a ruling on the proposition it was agreed not to report the resolution for action in the house until this opinion is obtained.

Colonel McGowan, old member of the house committee that the ex-service men and women "are getting tired of this honor and glory stuff and want a little of the substance."

"All we ask of the legislature," said the colonel, "is that you give us the privilege of going to the people with our proposition; we think we know what they will do."

The resolution provides for the submission to the people at the next November election of a constitutional amendment which would authorize the issuing of $25,000,000 in bonds to create a fund to pay each of the 238,000 ex-service men a bonus of $10 a month for each month's service or not to exceed $280 in any case.

The house met at 9 o'clock this morning but there was not a quorum present and that body adjourned until Monday. The senate adjourned last night until Monday.

The killing of a policeman while engaged in the performance of his duty may be made murder in the first degree, punishable by death or life imprisonment if a bill by Senator Reynolds, Cuyahoga county which passed the senate yesterday is approved by the house and signed by the governor.

A bill by Senator Bender of Cleveland to require the removal of all screens from the fronts of soft drink establishments and bills to levy and collect a tax of 20 cents a gallon on all whiskey and other liquors in bottles were introduced by Senator Pence and Representative Paris of Highland county yesterday were to be referred to the house and senate temperance committees.

Farmers and dairymen will back a bill by Senator Snyder of Henry county introduced yesterday which seeks to establish by law an 18 percent milk fat standard for ordinary cream and a 30 percent milk fat standard for cream for whipping sold in Ohio and to prevent the sale of adulterated cream under a properly labeled.

A new rural police rule was before the house today, having been introduced by Representative Wise of Stark county. It would create a board of police commissioners in each county composed of the prosecuting attorney, sheriff and auditor, with the sheriff acting as chief of police for the county. These officers would serve without extra compensation. They would have power to appoint from the county militia company police and to pay cost of the department by a tax or levy to not exceed three-tenths of a mill annually.

The state granage is said to have under consideration a bill similar to that introduced by Representative Wise. Mr. Wise said that he had not consulted with the granage or any other organization in the preparation of his bill.

NAMED PRESIDENT OF BOXING BODY

W. E. Liginger.

W. E. Liginger was chosen president of the National Boxing Association, recently formed by boxing promoters and boosters from sixteen states, at a meeting in New York. TOO LATE TO FILE
GAS REFERENDUMAttorney J. R. Fitzgibbon
States Final Limit For Petitions Expired at Midnight Thursday.

The referendum petition which has been circulated the last few days for signatures asking for a referendum on the increase gas rate ordinance passed by the city council over Mayor H. A. Atherton's veto last Monday night, is not legally effective according to the statement of Attorney J. R. Fitzgibbon this afternoon.

According to Mr. Fitzgibbon, a referendum petition with the necessary number of signatures of voters must be filed with the city auditor within 30 days of the filing of the ordinance in question with the mayor.

The gas ordinance was passed by the city council December 20, 1920 and was filed with Mayor Atherton's veto January 17. Thirty days from the filing of the ordinance with the mayor would make the final date for filing with the city auditor January 20, as there are 31 days in December and the law says that the referendum petition must be filed within 30 days.

Councilman Gearhart stated this morning that the necessary number of signatures to the petition had been secured. It was his understanding that the petition could be filed up to midnight tonight.

The increased rates will become effective after publication of the ordinance if no referendum is called.

City Solicitor Ashcraft was out of the city this afternoon, appearing before the Supreme Court in the East Main street paving matter.

FIGHT CONTRACT
IS STILL VALIDEnglish Party to Agreement
Says Brady Doesn't Speak
For Him—Offers Half Million For Fight In London.

London, Jan. 21.—The original contract for the Carpenter-Dempsey boxing bout is considered still valid by Charles B. Cochran, the English boxing promoter, a party to the agreement, who is in New York today.

Cochran's associates said they had no knowledge of authority for William A. Brady of New York to speak in Mr. Cochran's behalf.

The statement reads: "As far as Mr. Cochran is concerned, the original contract for Dempsey-Carpenter fight holds. If Messrs Brady and Richard have withdrawn that is beyond our control but if it is thus, Mr. Cochran offers 100,000 pounds to stage the fight in London."

It was stated that Mr. Cochran had not heard directly from Mr. Brady, but was inclined to believe the ruling of the New York state boxing commission as a maximum admission fee to "get out from under."

FISHING RODS AND GOLF STICKS ON
HARDING'S HANDSPacks Cabinet Troubles and Government Policies In
Kit Bag.Will Devote Next Six Weeks
To Complete Rest and Recreation.

On Board President-elect Harding's Train, Jan. 21.—With his troubles packed in kit bag that he intends to keep tightly locked for at least two weeks, President-elect Harding turned his thoughts to golf sticks and fishing rods today as he journeyed southward for a vacation in Florida.

The association of nations, tax reform, the choice of a cabinet and all the other topics that have been keeping long hours with him during the last six weeks in Marion are to be put as far away from his mind as possible until he has had a good rest. His Marion conference frequently have kept him busy from early morning until late at night and the strain and lack of exercise have told materially on his physical condition.

Not once since his return from Panama early in December has he been able to visit his favorite playground, the golf links, walking has been his only recreation and he has found little time even for that.

A fishing trip down the eastern shore of Florida is to occupy the first two weeks of his stay in the south. It is his hope to become completely isolated from observation during the period, though he may venture forth once or twice to play golf. Early in February he will take up his residence at St. Augustine Hotel, where he will remain until just before his inauguration.

Mr. Harding's private car, which left Marion at midnight, went southward today attached to the regular passenger train and was to pass through Chattanooga late in the afternoon and reach Atlanta during the evening. He will arrive at St. Augustine Sunday.

Two who have been his companions on all the trips since his nomination were not included in the party aboard the private car today. Mrs. Harding remained behind to dispose of personal affairs in Marion but will come to Florida after a shopping trip to Washington and New York.

Mr. J. P. Sawyer, Mr. J. E. Sawyer, who accompanied him as a personal physician during the campaign and on the Panama trip, is kept in Marion by business consideration but may join the party before it leaves the south.

Tickets also were issued for 1,000 pounds of fish and 1000 pecks of potatoes, for the men to take to their families.

John C. Cowell, city emergency labor commissioner today reiterated a statement that "at least 10,000 people in Toledo are mighty close to the starving line."

Nearly two hundred more were added to the list of unemployed today when a reduction in forces of the Pennsylvania railroad company went into effect.

Twenty-five percent of the freight crews of the Pennsylvania lines over the Toledo and Mansfield division were laid off under the order and clerks in the Toledo freight office put on a five day week basis.

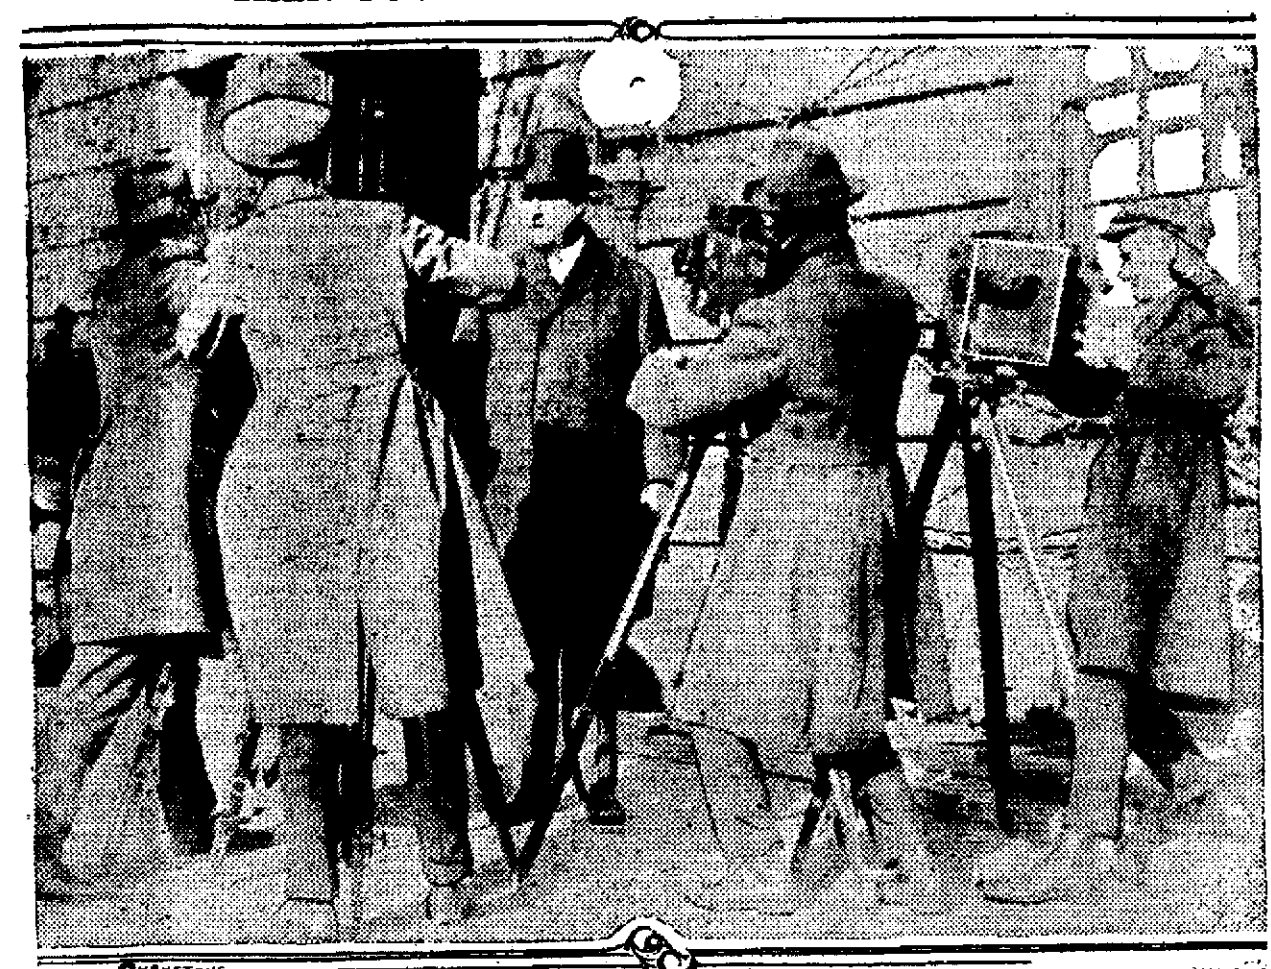

The Women's Christian Temperance Union, through Mrs. Lulu T. Gleason, volunteered today to enlist the 1200 women of her organization to feeding hungry men, women and children. She planned to confer with Mayor Cornell Schaefer this afternoon.

Work at odd jobs was provided for about two hundred men today, Mr. Cowell announced.

SLEEPING SICKNESS IS CAUSE OF MAN'S DEATH

Celvland, Jan. 21.—A strange malady, thought to be "sleeping sickness," has claimed its first victim in the death of Ralph Smith, 30, in a local hospital.

Health Director Lockwood yesterday ordered the isolation of all cases of the disease to prevent spread, although little is known of its nature. It is a brain inflammation with symptoms similar to those of the African sleeping sickness, which is said to be spread by the bite of a fly. Eight cases have been treated at the city hospital during the last month. Many deaths throughout the state from the disease have been reported. It is said.

WON'T ACCEPT
CUT IN WAGESChicago Unions Vote to Decline Pay Reductions
Within Three Years—Say
Wages Don't Keep Pace
With Costs.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—In a prepared statement made public today by the Chicago Building Trades Council, reasons are set forth why the 32 unions affiliated with the council voted not to accept any reductions in their present wage scales within the next three years. It was decided to insist on continuation of the present $12.5 an hour wage for union building workers at a meeting of their business agents yesterday.

President Thomas S. Kearney of the Building Trades Council, said prior to the war 30,000 workmen in Chicago were members of the unions affiliated with the council. Now the number has been reduced to 50,000 while only 40 percent are employed and a large number have entered other lines of work more remunerative.

"If committees appointed to rectify housing conditions would lay off hanging 'cape' Mr. Kearney added, 'the building industry would boom and within six or eight months there would be plenty of homes for everyone.'"

"At present people are confused by the reports made by these committees and refuse to build. Some say they intend to wait until the cost of material is reduced. Instead of decreasing, the price of material will increase."

"It is contended by some that in the readjustment labor should participate by offering its services at a lower wage in order to bring about production. That is the worst thing that can be done. Labor has suffered and is suffering now because wages have not kept pace with the increase of living."

A full, honest days work should be furnished by labor. We all know there have been abuses on the part of tradesmen, manufacturers and financial people who have taken advantage of conditions. The building trades have thrashed out this subject and agreed that no labor should suffer for a full, honest days work will be disciplined by his organization."

Several members of the local legion post were made members of the national legion at the legion convention. Through the efforts of Charles Linsay, a charter member, secured for this post. These members held a meeting last night, and initiated about 20 P. G.'s or Prisonnier de Guerre.

Following the initiation, the local organization was perfected, and the following were elected to the offices. Chief de Guerre—Les Moore. Chef de Train—Tom Snyder. Conducteur—George Johnson. Commissaire—Jerome Norpell.

Correspondent—Parke Chase. Guide de Prisonnier—Benjamin Charles. Fred Abbott, Fred Allison. Cheminot—Homer White, Max Norpell, P. W. Jones, Jr. Guard aux Chévaux—Fred Nehls.

The name of the order will be readily recognized by former service men, and is taken from the inscription on the sides of the French box cars, which were used to transport troops. In English it means 40 men or 8 horses, and refers to the capacity of the box car which by the way, are nothing like the ones used in this country. They are quite small, and perhaps eight horses might be transported in one in comfort, but the men who rode in them had a different opinion.

On February 7, Amle voiture of Columbus will be in Newark to handle the initiation for the local boys, and the men who have applied for membership in the local vulture will receive the work at that time. It is expected that they will have a large job cut out for them, as the boys here in town are very anxious to assume the title of "Voyageurs Militaire."

This organization is the national body composed of the male members of the American Legion, and its purposes are to provide a playground feature within the Legion, and to perpetuate the memories of the time spent in the army, navy and marine corps. It was first started among the veterans in Philadelphia, and in a short time its posts were found in various parts of the country. At the national convention of the legion, held this last fall in Cleveland, the delegates gave the order their approval. At present the national organization is unable to take care of the requests made to the legion for charters for local organizations.

SINN FEIN CLASHConstables Die When Motor Car Is Ambushed Near Dublin—Civilian Is Slain.

Dublin, Jan. 21.—Eight men, seven of whom were constables were shot and killed in engagements with Sinn Feiners near this city yesterday. Six of the constables met death when their motor car ran into an ambush, while the body of another was found near the barracks of his squad yesterday morning.

The civilian slain was shot by several men who entered his home. Announcement has been made that in future all motor cars carrying constables and therefore likely to be attacked, will carry members of the Sinn Fein as hostages. This plan has been in operation near Cork, where martial law is in force, and has, it is said, acted as a preventive of attacks on parties of constabulary.

Recourse to the hostage system here, where martial law has not been declared, caused general surprise. Two three story houses in Cork were destroyed by British army engineers yesterday as an act of official reprisal for an attack made on crown forces in their neighborhood. The buildings were shattered by dynamite and reports reaching here indicate several adjacent structures were severely damaged.

Major General Sir Edward Strickland, commander of crown troops in Ireland, stated yesterday at Cork that martial law was producing beneficial results and that arms are being surrendered by or captured from Sinn Feiners. He admitted, however, that only a handful of Irish Republican leaders had given themselves up to the British government and added that his men were most seriously handicapped by the activities of women who were carrying arms to fugitive Sinn Feiners.

SCHWAB DENIES EXPENSES WERE
PAID BY BOARDSays Statement of Abadie Is Unqualifiedly and Maliciously False.Declares He Never Drew the Dollar a Year Salary Allowed.

New York, Jan. 21.—Charles M. Schwab appeared before the Walsh congressional committee this morning and denied testimony given yesterday by Colonel E. H. Abadie, former controller of the United States shipping board, to the effect that Mr. Schwab's personal expenses for October 1918, amounting to $769,000 were charged to the shipping board.

Mr. Schwab declared the statements were absolutely "unqualifiedly and maliciously false" and that he personally paid all his own expenses during his term of office as director general of the emergency fleet corporation.

Mr. Schwab said that although he was supposed to receive a dollar a year salary, he did not even collect that and for his travels from ship yard to ship yard, while at the head of the fleet corporation, he never received any compensation and did not want any.

Mr. Schwab admitted such a voucher as that charged by Colonel Abadie may have been paid to him but declared it was not for the purposes claimed by Abadie and no part of it was charged to ship construction. His acceptance of the proposition as head of the fleet corporation, he told the committee was only at the urgent request of the chairman of the board and President Wilson.

In accepting the place, he declared, he insisted that all matters connected with his own ship building companies be handled by other members of the board.

Colonel Abadie who again took the stand, reiterated his previous testimony that information concerning it had been given to him by Mr. Morse of Perley Morse and company, accountants employed to audit shipping board books. He said the charge was entered as "overcharges" in the main office of the Bethlehem company and $100,000 was charged to ship construction.

The witnesses in reply to a question, admitted that Mr. Morse had told him how the other $150,000 had been spent, but declined to reveal what he had been told and said it concerned the Bethlehem corporation only.

Mr. Schwab was called before the committee at his own request, and interrupted Colonel Abadie's running testimony to cross his denial. Mr. Schwab was asked to appear again next Tuesday.

FIVE CENT CIGAR IS

Washington, Jan. 21.—The old-time five cent cigar, once hailed by Vice President Marshall as the nation's crying need, in its return to normal, is gone forever unless tariff and tax levies on tobacco drop, manufacturers and importers told the house tariff framers yesterday. The gloomy forecast emanated from a smoke screen—cigar smoke—that rolled and eddied about the ways and means committee room arising from samples brought by the tobacco men and promptly put to the test by the committee.

BUREAU HEAD DEFENDS POST

Secretary Wilson Answers Charges of American Legion Attacking Record of Assistant In Deportation Matter.

Washington, Jan. 21.—A defense of the policy of the department of labor in dealing with radical aliens and accepting endorsement of Assistant Secretary Louis S. Post in carrying out that policy was made yesterday by Secretary Wilson in a statement replying to an attack on Post by the executive committee of the American Legion.

The secretary's statement was transmitted by Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson to Colonel Henry D. Lindsay, chairman of the legion's executive committee, and it was designed as a reply to a formal request for the dismissal of Post which was presented at the White House last October by the executive committee in pursuance of a resolution adopted at the last annual convention of the legion.

"Louis S. Post is one of the truest Americans I have ever come in contact with," said Secretary Wilson's statement. "He is a thorough believer in democracy. He has no sympathy with any alien or American who believes, advocates or teaches the use of force to overthrow the government of the United States. He has, however, a profound belief in and reverence for the constitution of the United States, including that part which provides for its own amendment. He has, therefore, faithfully carried out the instructions given by me as secretary of labor concerning deportation cases."

MAJORITY OF TAGS ISSUED

Registrar Declares That 85 Per Cent of Owners Have Secured New Tags—Predicts New Record.

Columbus, Jan. 21.—More than 85 per cent of the 1921 Ohio auto tags, totaling more than $6,000,000, have been issued so far this year. It was estimated by Alexander Snow, state automobile registrar. That is within $500,000 of the total tags disposed of last year, Snow says.

Last year, counting all classes of vehicles, 675,000 tags were issued, Mr. Snow said. The figures include 618,000 passenger cars and trucks, 20,000 motorcycles, 5,000 electric, and 22,000 dealers' licenses and certified copies.

Up until yesterday, the tags were being disposed of at the registrar's office here at the rate of 1,500 a day, and so far approximately 600,000 are in the hands of automobile owners of Ohio.

There will be more tags disposed of in 1921 than ever is the history of the state, Mr. Snow asserted. Seventy-five thousand truck tags, in addition to the tags sold over the counter, have been shipped to automobile clubs and deputy registrars.

With 75,000 tags, the Cleveland Automobile Club heads the list of outside agencies. This club during 1921, it is said, will issue more tags than the entire sales amounted to in 1914, and more than the total of the years 1908 to 1912 combined. Darke county will register more vehicles per capita than any other county, its estimate being 8,500 for 1921.

The Columbus Automobile Club has issued 45,000 sets of tags; the Cincinnati Automobile Club has 30,000 sets; the club in Toledo, 30,000; Akron has 28,000; Dayton, 22,500; Canton, 14,000, and the Warren club 10,000.

In addition to these nine organizations, plates are issued at 90 other points in the state, and Ohio is said to be the only state in the union where auto owners have such an advantage, according to Secretary of State Smith.

The department operated on less than 4 per cent of the gross receipts during 1920, 50 per cent of which went to the counties and municipalities where the vehicles were owned, for street maintenance and repair, according to figures at the registrar's office.

The new auto tax law, against which automobile clubs of the state staged a bitter court fight, has worked out remarkably well, Mr. Snow declared.

The legislature should not change the law, he asserted, except to amend the portion which makes the licensing period January, April, July and October, to January and August, providing for the full year's payment for all tags issued previous to August 1, and six months when issued after that date.

The automobile department, which is located in the state-owned Wyandotte building here, is badly in need of more room, according to Mr. Snow. Attention of both the governor and the adjutant general has been called to the condition, and relief is expected shortly, he said.

SHIPPING PROBLEM TO BE DISCUSSED

Builders, Owners and Exporters Attend Convention In Washington.

Canal Tolls and Freight Rates On Exports Among Subjects.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Ship builders, shipping men and exporters from over the country gathered here today for a two-day discussion of problems facing the American merchant marine with a view to recommending permanent policies to congress and the shipping board. They attended the annual convention of the National Merchant Marine association, of which Senator Handell, of Louisiana, is president.

Subjects assigned various speakers and listed for general discussion included repeal of the Panama Canal tolls affecting American vessels; the prices of which government vessels should be sold; establishment of preferential rates on exports and imports in American ships; revision of marine insurance laws; abrogation of commercial treaties and the encouragement of the use of American ships by exporters and importers.

Speakers of the opening session included Chairman Jones, of the senate commerce committee; Rear Admiral Benson, chairman of the shipping board and Frank C. Munson, president of the Munson Steamship line. Senator Jones' subject was the purpose of the merchant marine act and the need for full support from the people of the country, while chairman Benson discussed the general shipping situation from the standpoint of the shipping board.

President Handell outlined the general purposes of the meeting in his address opening the convention and Mr. Munson had taken as his topic "How Can the United States Improve Its Present Position on the Seas?" The first general discussion followed the delivery of the prepared addresses.

At the afternoon session the American shipbuilding situation was to be discussed by Homer L. Ferguson, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock company, Alexandria, La.; general manager of the International Harvester company was to speak on the establishment of preferential export and import rates and J. Parker Kiehl, admiralty lawyer, was listed for a discussion of the exemption from excess profits taxes of ship earnings invested in shipping.

board tonnage as well as new construction. Repair problems of the merchant marine fleet and revision of marine laws were subjects assigned, respectively to Commander R. D. Gatewood, director division of construction and repairs, shipping board, and Rep. Edmunds, of Pennsylvania.

Speakers at the final sessions tomorrow were to include J. W. Powell, of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation; Charles M. Schwab, Mathew Hales, president of the South Atlantic States association; P. A. S. Franklin, president of the International Mercantile Marine company; Charles P. Ploz, former director of the Emergency Fleet corporation, and W. Averill Harriman, chairman of the board of the United American lines.

PURITY

A corn and chicken show will be held in the hall Wednesday, January 26. The purpose of the show is to compare the different varieties of corn grown in this community, to interest the people in the production of pure-bred poultry and to create a community spirit. Each farmer has been asked to contribute. It is hoped there will be a large attendance at the show.

Rev. S. S. Sutton of Crooksville occupied the pulpit of the Eden Church of Christ here, Sunday morning and evening. He was entertained between services at the home of Frank Wilkin and spent Sunday night with Samuel Hamilton and family.

Mrs. Julia Wilkin has been visiting at the home of her son, Frank Wilkin, since Christmas.

Misses Indus Oldaker, Marie Blake, and Otto Burkholder are employed in Newark.

Mrs. Susie Keller went to Chatham, Sunday, to spend three weeks with Mrs. Arthur Keckley.

Several farmers of this community have suffered the loss of sheep attacked by dogs, recently. William Elliott and Bert Jones, north of this neighborhood sustained the greatest loss, and when Mr. Elliott found on his farm, one day last week, two dogs whose actions were suspicious, he followed them to their homes and with the permission of the owners, shot the dogs. Since then, no damage to flocks has been reported.

Mrs. Will Elliott was called to Jersey, Sunday by the death of her uncle, Lyman King, at the home of her father, Andrew King.

Several of the ladies from here attended the all-day union meeting at the Central Church of Christ in Newark, Tuesday. Most of the men attended a meeting of the Farm Bureau at Utica on that day.

An illustrated 32-page pamphlet on contagious abortion in cattle has just been issued by the Agricultural College Extension Service, Columbus, for free distribution.

PRESS CONGRESS MEETS IN HAWAII

HONOLULU PREPARES TO ENTERTAIN PRESS MEN

Honolulu, Jan. 21.—The world's press conference in all likelihood will meet in Honolulu in October, 1921, according to announcement of the Honolulu committee which has been carrying on negotiations with Walter Williams, dean of the school of journalism, University of Missouri, president of the press congress.

The Honolulu committee has guaranteed the necessary expenses, has made arrangements for reduced hotel rates for delegates and has taken steps to have put in force preferential steamship rates for the members who will attend the meeting.

is prepared. This takes time and patience, especially when you are hungry. Two green sticks about three inches in diameter are cut and placed a foot apart on the coals. These support the cabobs, keeping them from the coals, but allowing them to be roasted to the proper turn. Eating a cabob is also an art. One end of the stick is held in the hand, while the first piece of meat at the farther end is taken between the teeth. A little practice enables one to remove the stick from the piece, thus held without decorating the face with the end of the stick.

"During the meal Mr. Bailey delighted us with a lecture on camp cooking. It is possible to prepare a complete meal with no other utensil than a pocket knife. Material for a cabob may be wrapped in waxed paper and placed in a paper bag. Also in a paper bag put a little flour to which has been added salt and baking powder. A potato and an apple complete the outfit. The dough is mixed in the paper bag and then wrapped about a stick like a snake. The potato is buried in the coals, the apple is roasted above the coals, and the cabob is cooked as already described. When dinner is over you throw the bags on the fire and walk on unhindered.

"I am now back home ready to begin work again in the university, having added another to the several delightful trips I have had with Professor Vorhies out at Stone Cabin Canyon."

BRAZILIAN SOLONS WANT BIGGER NAVY

Rio de Janeiro.—The committee on naval and military affairs of the Brazilian Chamber of Deputies wants a bigger navy. It has called upon the president to present to the next session of congress a program of naval construction drawn up by the general staff of the admiralty and to be carried out for a term of years.

The reason given for this proposed increase is that it is necessary because of Brazil's new position in the world as a signatory of the Versailles Treaty and as an effective member of the League of Nations.

Milady's Boudoir

Beautiful Teeth.

Beauty of the teeth will come and be kept for many years if women will be constant and persistent in the use of the toothbrush. A good toothbrush should not be used more than a month at a time. Several brushes may be kept and most of them will be resting while one is being used. To keep the teeth white and perfect the toothbrush should receive as much care as does the clothes brush of the hair brush.

It never pays to buy a cheap toothbrush. In the first place a poor set of bristles will not do the work well and loosely fastened bristles are dangerous if the slip down the throat where they will catch and destroy the walls of the digestive tract. Always wash the toothbrush after each application and, by the way, a new toothbrush should be soaked in a weak solution of bicarbonate of soda for two hours, to disinfect it from the store handling and to set the bristles tight. The teeth should be brushed at night, after each meal and upon arising in the morning. The night cleaning is

Mrs. George W. Oyster Jr., nee Miss Cecil C. Ready.

Romance that budded at the Syracuse state fair last fall came to fruition in the wedding of Miss Cecil C. Ready, twenty-five, of Syracuse, N. Y., one of the most popular society girls of that city, to George W. Oyster Jr., millionaire horse fancier, aged seventy-two. The wedding took place at Washington and a special honeymoon train will take them to Florida, where they will have a honeymoon apartment consisting of an entire floor of a hotel. It has been stated that Oyster has promised his mother $1,000 a month "pin money." The young bride is indignant that any mention be made of the disparity in ages, for she declares the match emanated from a "perfect compatibility of temperaments, or love, if you will."

Children should be allowed to go into the kitchen once in a while to make their own candy. Their little systems need a certain amount of sweets and they taste twice as good if they are allowed to make them for themselves. The child should be taught to clear up whatever they have used and wash and put away each dish.

Molasses candy is made with two cups of molasses, one cup of sugar, one tablespoon of butter, a tablespoon of vinegar. Boil ten minutes then add a teaspoon of vanilla, allow it to cool so it can be handled and then pull.

Chocolate caramels are made with two cups of brown sugar, one cup of molasses, one cup of chocolate grated fine, a cup of hot milk and a tablespoon of flour. Let it boil slowly and, just before it is done, add a tablespoon of butter. Pour into greased tin tins to cool and mark off while hot.

The Women's Music club gave a pleasing vocal and instrumental program at the home of Mrs. Fitzgibbon. Four of Newark's younger artists assisting. The first piano group by Mr. Ralph Allen was very well rendered, showing technique and fine interpretation. The Sonata was played, while "The Butterfly" light and airy. Following came the very characteristic "Danse Nigre." Mr. Minor Mitchell played with true and pleasing tone "Cavatina" and "Andante" were melodious numbers. The "Souvenir" left with you a haunting melody while the "Bolero" brought to mind Spanish dancers. Miss Ellis possesses a voice of beautiful quality, enhanced by good diction. The "Morning Wind" was a number well suited to the soprano voice, which "Mon Desir" and "Falling" showed musical feeling and tenderness.

Miss Junia Sells, "Polonaise" showed breath and technique and was especially well rendered. The "Song from the East" transported you at once to the Oriental atmosphere. Miss Sells had played the "Bolero" for the composer Cadman and he was much pleased with her interpretation. All responded with pleasing encores: Mrs. Fred Lytle and Miss Sells proved able accompanists. The program follows:

Nurseries for babies are provided so that the women may be free for a couple of hours a day in order to attend the English lessons.

"I expect to be leaving for California soon, for I think the climate will be good for me, and together with the assurance I'm getting from Drecto, believe I'll be in good shape again," stated Mr. Wm. Toothman of 68 S. Linden Ave., Newark, Ohio.

"For fear I may not be able to find Drecto out there I'm going to take along a half dozen bottles, for I wouldn't be without this grand medicine for anything. I've taken three bottles already and while I don't believe I've gained any weight, I feel very much improved. Before taking Drecto I could hardly drag around and my work was hard on me but my strength has increased so much that I can get about fine now. Drecto is fine medicine and deserves all the credit the people are giving it." Drecto has proven to be a wonderful reconstructive tonic. "It creates new appetite, induces sound, refreshing sleep, keeps the bowels moving, regulates the kidneys and aids the stomach to properly digest the food. The action is pleasing and prompt."

WARNS SPANISH NOBLES GIVE UP ITS LETHARGY

Madrid, Jan. 21. "Wake up or die!" is the warning addressed to the Spanish aristocracy in an editorial of El Debate, which laments the ancient nobility of the country for its "lethal passivity" in all public matters. The writer adds:

"In order not to succumb, the nobility must not only display more democratic sentiments but personally participate in the life of the country. Otherwise, having already lost its ancient class spirit, surrounded by a materialistic bourgeoisie, a middle class without any defined object and a populace exasperated by political deception and economic want, until it is ready to follow the lead of violence, the nobility will have nothing else to do than succumb."

"The British aristocracy is giving an example of what an aristocracy should do in order to merit its name. For its courage, its gained distinction in science, industry and active politics and theory."

TAFT POINTS OUT NEED OF CUTTING DOWN WAR FLEETS

Debts Carried By All Nations Makes Economy Urgent, He Declares.

Has No Fear of Conflict Between United States and England.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Jan. 21.—Former President William H. Taft, who is spending a month here, said in an interview today that "the enormous burden of debt of every country makes it almost indispensable that the necessity for armament be removed. You can only do that by joint action and joint agreements and by promises of settling all differences without fighting."

They are already discussing seriously in the United States an agreement for disarmament on the limiting of armament and strangely enough this comes in part at least, from men who have been vigorously opposed to any league at all," he continued.

"I am very hopeful that under Mr. Harding we shall reach a conclusion with other leading nations for an association or league which shall mark the advance brought about by the war toward reasonable machinery for the avoidance of future conflicts. This will involve the limiting of armament and will imply the taking of joint measures to compose differences and to restrain a resort to the unsatisfactory and bloody arbitrament of war."

"Lately I have often been questioned as to the attitude of the United States toward Great Britain. Of course the United States consists of some 110,000,000 people with many different currents of thought permeating the mass. Many different groupings, too, will be found, and there are some of these groups more than vocal representative of real public opinion who manifest bitter feeling against Britain. But when an important question arises, when a real issue comes before us, then the sober public opinion of the United States asserts itself."

"I never have had the slightest concern over the relations of the two countries. We form the strongest union for peace because we are nations that exist in the world today. We have given into the habit of settling our differences by means of negotiation and arbitration. The great body of the people in the United States cannot conceive of a war between the two countries because they are confident that any real issue will be settled either by negotiation or by the judgment of a court as with people in any domestic jurisdiction where law and order prevail."

Speaking of business conditions in the United States, Mr. Taft said: "We are not alarmed. We are a very resilient people and can fight our way out," he said. "Congress is attempting to help in the matter of credit."

BUSINESS CONTRACTS ARE SCRAPS OF PAPER

"American business men who condemned the Kaiser in 1918 during the war, for repudiating solemn treaties and describing them as scraps of paper, today are repudiating contracts just as sacred," declared Horace C. Drake of Cincinnati last night at the First Baptist church. He addressed a conventional meeting when various department heads in the new church organization outlined plans for the coming year.

Mr. Drake took for his theme, the need of Christian living in everyday life and his assertion was made to illustrate the absence of which leads in the business between business men during the present business depression.

"An old Scotch proverb," Mr. Drake said, "states that he who is a piece from the sublimity of the world is a side down." He said that he would divide his sermon into three parts as follows: "The world is a side down, it must be turned right side up; we are the people to do the job."

"That is the situation today. The world is upside down. It must be righted, and Christian people are the ones to do the job."

"There was a time when I thought American business standards were upon the highest ethical plane, but this illustration has been shattered. Business men heretofore regarded honorable as cancelling contracts and throwing manufactured products back on the hands of the maker for no other reason than that the market has dropped since the order was placed. The world needs more of the religion of Jesus Christ if present day conditions are to be changed."

Mr. Drake made an appeal for greater interest in the Sunday school as the means of giving the children a solid foundation of Christian ideals.

His address concluded a program which included a supper served by the women of the church, an outline of the future plans of the various departments, given by department heads.

For the deacons, E. C. Norris for the trustees, W. E. Hirschberger for the Sunday school, Mrs. A. J. Baldwin, Mrs. G. C. Vail, Mrs. Charles Stevens and Mrs. B. M. Hendricks for the Ladies Aid Society, Mrs. Frank B. Scott for the Missionary society, E. H. Frame for the Brotherhood, Mrs. Frank Young for the young people's society and H. R. Hickmott for the Boy Scout troops. The pastor, Rev. Forest L. Fraser presided.

TEACHERS' PAY IS INCREASED $600

Baltimore Leads Cities In Boosting Salaries of School Workers.

Teachers Still At Bottom of List of Skilled Workers.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 21.—With an increase of $600 per year to the average teacher, Baltimore is shown to lead the list of American cities in amount of salary advances to be granted to public school workers during the past year, according to a survey of the national educational situation just completed by the Better Schools service, a bureau of the American Federation of Teachers.

This bureau has been compiling statistics and reports here since the teacher shortage became acute. Philadelphia is shown to bring up the rear of all cities, its increase being only from $54 to $120 per year.

The average increase for cities of more than 100,000 population is listed at $365 per year, for cities of between 50,000 and 100,000 $332, in cities of 25,000 to 50,000 $371.

Reports from all over the country show that the general advance in salaries still leaves teachers more inadequately paid than previous to 1914," said William T. McCoy, director of the survey in making the first findings public.

"Teachers are still at the bottom of skilled workers in the wage scale," he added. "The measures of relief have been palliative only. They may have checked momentarily the disintegration in the public school system of this country but they have not arrested it. All reports show that there must be fundamental changes in the policy of financing education before schools are safe from current deterioration. Normal school enrollment over the nation is the barometer of the educational system. This barometer is now very low. Even the Baltimore increase is reported by Maryland educators to have been inadequate."

Among the larger American cities Louisville and Portland, (N. J.) rank next to Baltimore, with an average of the average annual increase, Chicago, Toledo, San Francisco and Kansas City take next place with $450 each. St. Louis, Oakland, Tacoma gave $420 a piece with Spokane close behind with $400. Boston, Los Angeles and Houston awarded a raise of $330, with Atlanta and Minneapolis $300 each. Indianapolis, Cleveland and Des Moines gave $200.

Of cities between 50,000 and 100,000 Terre Haute, Ind., leads with an average teacher advance of $450. Portland, Me. gave $400 and Gary, Ind., $390.

In the third group cities between 25,000 and 50,000 Montclair, N. J., tops the list with $500. Newton, Mass., being next with $450.

SEMINOLES WILL MOVE TO MEXICO

Will Occupy Land Allotted To Them In 1859 By Mexican Government—Land Is Valuable.

Wewoka, Okla., Jan. 21.—At a conference of Seminole Indians held here recently a decision was reached whereby many Seminole Indians now living in Seminole county will move to Mexico next summer to live upon a reservation allotted to them in 1859 by the the Mexican government. If claims to the land can be established.

Louis P. Brown, chief of the Seminoles and son of former Gov. J. P. Brown, with a delegation of fourteen Seminole leaders, have left for Mexico City to confer with President Obregon and ask his decision on the claim.

Chief Brown is in possession of a copper medal upon which the original treaty was made to the tribe, granting the reservation to the Indians, which he will take with him to offer as proof of the grant. The only question that is uncertain in the minds of the Seminole leaders, is whether the new Mexican regime will recognize the treaties of the old rulers.

Members of the tribe who will migrate to Mexico are those who have sold their allotments in Seminole county, following the removal of restrictions, the Seminole chief said. Having no homesteads, they desire to live according to their old ways and customs.

The reservation which the Seminoles claim was granted to them, adjoins that of the Kickapoo Indians in northern Mexico and consists of several thousands of acres of fertile soil. The reservation was at one time occupied by the Seminoles, old Indians say, but many of them moved to Oklahoma after the civil war when the land was allotted to them. Slaves of the Indians, who remained in Mexico when their masters moved into Oklahoma are still living on this reservation, the Seminoles declare.

"THE 13TH COMMANDMENT"
AT ALHAMBRA THEATER
America's most common vice is said to be spending more than we earn. Rupert Hughes wrote a striking novel about it, called "The Thirteenth Commandment." A more than ordinarily interesting motion picture has been made of the story and is being shown at the Alhambra theater Friday and Saturday. Eliel Clayton is the star and all that Mr. Hughes intended his beautiful and exquisitely gownned heroine to be.
As you have probably surmised, "The Thirteenth Commandment" is "Thou shalt not spend more than thou earnest" and the story is about young man, and about the married folks. The central figure is one Daphne Kip, daughter of a middle western merchant, who has always been huddled pressed to meet the extravagant demands of his family. She becomes engaged to a young New Yorker, supposedly rich, but when she comes to the metropolis, she discovers that like her father, he has been sinning himself to buy her extravagant gifts and is really poor.
The bickerings of her brother and his newly acquired and idle wife over money matters comes Daphne in a resolution to make her own way and not become a parasite. She fails in an attempt at a shoe work and finally becomes half-owner of a lingerie shop. She saves her brother's wife from a disgraceful situation. When her fiancé returns from the west, where he has acquired his shrunken fortunes, she consents to marry him, but only on condition that she continue to earn her own way.

OTIS SKINNER TO BE SEEN HERE IN "KISMET"
It may perhaps be glad news to movie fans to know that last Tuesday, Manager Fenberg booked Otis Skinner in "Kismet," the Robertson-Cole photo production, for a showing commencing next Monday at his Auditorium theater.
Mr. Skinner is America's most distinguished actor, and "Kismet" is said to be the miracle of the theater's art.

UNIQUE CHARACTERIZATION IN "SUDS" TO BE SEEN
Having won the hearts of the world and established herself as the greatest exponent of child characters on stage and screen, the ever-reliable Mary Pickford will be seen at the Auditorium today and over Saturday, in "Suds," a United Artists photoplay of an entirely different nature to anything in which she has heretofore appeared.

The theme of "Suds" is based on Maude Adams' famous play, "Op of Me Thumb," which she presented for a long time at the Empire theater in New York as well as on her triumphal tour of America. It is from the dual pen of Frederick Penn and Richard Pryce, two brilliant young English authors, had the character of Amanda Afflick in mind and has been waiting the opportunity to present it in the proper manner and with the proper settings.
Since the completion of "Tollymore" in the latter part of 1919, Miss Pickford has been at work with her staff of assistants on "Suds." Over four months were spent in the adaptation of the story for the screen by several of the best scenario writers in the photoplay profession, and this versatile little star went over the entire story again and again, word for word, until in its type-written form it was a photoplay gem.

TOBACCO REGION IS FACING CRISIS

Sudden Drop In Prices Gives Bankers Attack of "Nerves."

Growers Declare Decline Should Be Gradual—Buyers Are Silent.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 21.—Central Kentucky is trying to save thousands of farmers from bankruptcy and banks and business houses from serious embarrassment, according to statements of bankers, growers and others who have been active in the movement to force prices for the 1920 crop of burley tobacco to a point that will not be far from the 1920 record. They assign this as the reason for the nervous situation that has torn the burley tobacco region for the last several weeks resulting in all markets, but a few being closed threats being made against buyers, a run on one bank and an agreement to "cut out" the 1921 crop and hold the 1920 crop if financial arrangements can be made.
Banks in Central Kentucky loan large sums to farmers to finance their crops. Just how large the total if these loans this year is no guess has been ventured. The question of how long the bankers can carry the farmers, however, was one of the fore most in the meeting of farmers, growers and warehousemen held here recently.
It is claimed that if tobacco does not bring a satisfactory price these farmers will lose their lands, and many financial institutions will be humpered.
Buyers of tobacco are silent as to why prices are not higher. Farmers claim that in view of the fact that prices rose gradually over a period of four years from 1915 to 1919, they should drop gradually. They assert that labor costs during 1920 season were the highest in the history of farming in Kentucky. Stories of farmers who paid $8 per day for common labor in the tobacco fields are common among large growers who visit the offices of the Burley Tobacco Growers' association here. Stopping tobacco-taking the leaves off the stalk and tying them into "hands" or bundles—cost from five to eight cents a pound, according to statements of officials of the growers' association who have been traveling throughout the district.
Kentucky produces one-fifth of the tobacco of the world and almost one-third of the crop of the United States. United States department of agriculture. The world production in 1915, the last year for which statistics are available, was 2,153,355,000 pounds. The United States in 1919 produced 1,493,325,000 pounds while Kentucky produced a total of 498,000,000 pounds of all types. The estimate for the total 1920 crop in the United States, just made public by the department of agriculture, is 1,565,000,000 pounds and Kentucky 467,500,000 pounds. Farmers in the "Dark" belt of western Kentucky this year restricted their crop.

HOLDING UP THE PUBLIC.

When a city wants a certain piece of land for a school house, park or other purpose, the owners of the same often get enlarged ideas of its value. They feel that the community will pay a high price rather than take some other property, and that the additional cost will be so divided up that the taxpayers will never notice it.

Other persons when such a proposition comes up, are so anxious to help on the cause of civic improvement, that they will gladly turn over any private property that is wanted, for what it costs them.

When it comes to getting up any public enterprise, some people will charge a handsome profit on supplies, or a big price for services. Others will freely give their time, and work twice as hard as they would for their own business.

In a town where individuals are eager to make money at the expense of the community, public improvements cost high. It becomes less possible to get things done, because a constant burden of taxation has to be borne for betterments of the past. Public spirit is chilled by the spectacle of citizens whose first thought is personal enrichment.

In a community where people are willing to sink immediate advantage to help on public causes, a greater rate of progress is possible. A fine example of public spirit has been set, and now improvements are constantly being added. This created enthusiasm and people emulate each other in co-operation. With this feeling dominant, mountains of difficulty roll away, and things that would seem impossible elsewhere prove perfectly within reach. Much of this spirit of civic co-operation has in the past been manifested in Newark and in so far as it can be developed, the town will go ahead.

WORKING CHILDREN.

Herbert Hoover recently remarked "child labor is poisoning the springs of the nation at their source." The busy times of the past two years, with scarcity of labor, have led a great number of children to leave school at a very early age. In Chicago alone an increase of 18,000 in the number of working children was reported last summer, and similar indications come from many sources.

The child who quits school at 14 is said to have an earning capacity at the age of 25, of just half as great as the one who keeps in school until 18. And when such a child does go to work at the earlier age, he is not the only one who suffers.

The community loses as the result of his inefficient production. His brains and his standards of achievement are undeveloped, and he is a drag on community progress.

The next time the people get after the big monopolistic combines, they will do something besides drawing chalk lines across the floors of their offices to make them into theoretical competitors.

Many people feel it is no use worrying about increased costs of government, so long as the country owns plenty of presses for printing new paper money.

While the girls of course can't feel comfortable unless they wear flapping gajoshies, yet it is not absolutely necessary for style to parade the streets with their shoes unlaced.

Perhaps one reason why some girls are such fine dancers and get all the invitations, is that they are not rendered topheavy by any superfluity of brains.

If these gunmen don't stop their peppy hold-up business, it is easy to foresee a large increase in the number of burial permits in the near future.

Although buying of household necessities is said to have fallen off a good deal, no decline in the sale of dancing shoes is reported.

Some newspapers need to be reminded that putting a three column head on a fire in a chicken coop, does not make it a great event.

Many young men celebrate Courtois week by being exceedingly attentive to all the pretty girls.

TWO POINTS OF VIEW.

The Dry Goods Economist remarks that while the financial authorities in the speculative district of New York City take somewhat pessimistic views of the business situation, yet out among the retail traders who deal with ordinary people, there is a much more cheerful spirit.

One reason why many people get blue over business, is that the financial reviews in the big newspapers are usually written by men who get their ideas from stock market operators and other authorities in the speculative centers.

The people who know the most about actual business are the retail merchants. A great many of these find that trade has been very good all through the fall and Christmas season. Many of them have done more than ever before. In spite of temporary set-backs, the country is as a whole very prosperous, and 1921 ought to be a good year for business.

Some advertisers announce that clothing and shoes can be had for a song, and anyway some of the young serenaders that go about the town have boots thrown at them occasionally.

THRIFT WEEK.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

The prime object of thrift week is to persuade every American wage earner that it is doubly to his advantage to "lay up" at least 10 per cent. of his annual earnings. In the first place, such thrift provides for the proverbial "rainy day" and for the needs of old age. In the second place all money put in savings banks or life insurance or sound securities is money invested. Such investment is safe for the investor, and it is essential to place American industries on a sound basis.

It is said that if only 6 per cent of the 1920 wages paid to American workmen had thus been turned over to the investment market the country would not now be facing a period of unemployment and industrial depression. This 6 per cent would have amounted to $3,000,000,000.

The wage earner is too prone to live up to his income. Higher wages mean larger spending. It is true that recent wage increases have been largely based on the increased cost of living, and it is also true that as the cost of living decreases wages will diminish. But the drop in wages will not keep pace with the drop in costs. The present, therefore, is deemed to be an unusually favorable time for inculcating the lessons of thrift.

The men who are behind the thrift week observance are frankly of the opinion that America's industrial future is largely dependent on the thrift of the workers. To erect an edifice of industrial stability it is desirable to begin at the bottom. The wage earner's 10 per cent. savings would be, in the opinion of the thrift exponents, the foundation of a magnificent structure. Spending is not recommended. The consumer must keep the market from stagnation. But it is held that without niggardliness and without unwise abstention from purchase of commodities which make life comfortable the worker can lay aside enough to assure industrial prosperity. It is an appeal which merits the attention of every wage earner.

—Newark Advocate.

If you stood half as high, my friend,
As this old moon, I'm here to say
You'd have a pull and could get full
Without a stoop to say you nay.

A gleam of interest crossed his face, and swinging himself down in the chair, he opened the volume at the first chapter.

Out of the crisp pages, Major Desmond's card fluttered, and fell into his lap.

AND HE DID!

LOOK OUT OF THE WAY, I'LL SHOW YOU HOW TO STOP THAT SPIGOT FROM LEAKING!

AND HE DID!

What would everyone say—Conne and Curtis and the Reeve Lewises—if she brought Gerry back with her after all her boasted freedom? And Harding and the Major—What explanation could she give them if she showed up with a reincarnated husband?

Of course, there was always the last recourse of explaining the whole situation as the result of a joke. But the joke had gone rather far. Nancy thought, as she selected a bon bon from the box the Major had sent.

"Have one!" she offered the upper tray or sweets to her.

He took one carelessly, bit into it, and then looked across at his pretty wife suspiciously.

"Where did you get these?" he demanded.

Nancy laughed.

"Poor old suspicious dear! Does he suspect another man of sending me candy already?"

Her tone was tenderly mocking, but she found herself unable to meet his eyes.

Burrard, however, was not suspicious by nature. Quite reserved in his emotions, above all fair, he never made hasty judgment.

But some inexplicable impulse made him toss away the bon bon and come around to Nancy's side.

"I'm going to miss you damnably," he said, slipping his arms round her shoulders and laying his cheek against her hair.

She reached up a lazy hand to touch his cheek.

"Isn't it amusing," she laughed softly, "just because we're parting for a long period we find each other so immensely desirable. And we're on our very best behavior. If married people could only teach themselves to imagine that they were constantly on the verge of separation, they'd be awfully nice to each other, wouldn't they? I believe that it's only the thought of being together forever that rouses the demon in most of them."

His lips buried in her hair, Gerry made no reply.

Nancy jerked away from him petulantly.

"DON'T be so nice!" she exclaimed impatiently. "Quarrel with me, find fault with me—anything, so I'll be a little bit glad you're going."

Gerry laughed and lit a cigarette.

"Do you think I'm fool enough to set you free in a world of attractive men with a bad memory of me? I know precious little of women, but I've sense enough to realize that there's nothing like a knowledge that they've been badly used by one man to square their conscience with any bit of devilry they may get into with another."

Yet their farewell ended in a quarrel after all.

While Nancy dressed for dinner, Gerry ry, wandering aimlessly around the tiny sitting room, stopping to look down on bustling Michigan Boulevard with its clustering frosty lights stretching out to the placid, above the heavy slate-grey waters of the lake, turned back to the table. Nancy's traveling bag, which she had opened to remove the candy, lay there.

A book, temptingly new and crisp, lay on top of a swirl of pink silk garments.

Readers' Viewpoint

ON THE GAS QUESTION.

Editor, The Advocate:

At last the city council got the gas raise through, raised the gas rate at a time when readjustment is taking place and the country is returning to normal again. Passed it over the mayor's veto, and with a vote of 7 to 2. By so doing council helped the gas company break a contract with the city that was made and signed in good faith. If the gas company was a loser it was surely a cringing one. I believe that at the time that contract was drawn up for a certain number of years at so much per thousand feet that the gas company figured it had the best end of it. Good business sticks to its contracts, no matter how it hurts. It looks as though the most of the present councilmen are at present big brothers to the gas company.

Why not the people of this city get together and defeat it by the largest majority vote this city ever had, the gas rate increase.

Cleveland, a far bigger city than Newark, is not afraid of the gas company, for officials of that city say that starting February 7th the consumers of gas there shall pay 37 cents a thousand with a two per cent discount if the bill is paid promptly.

A vote by the people of Newark will also show that a city of 30,000 people, the minds of a city of 30,000 people.

One word more: Let the people give thanks to a man who is a man—Mayor Atherton. Also thanks to Messrs. Gearhart and Wolverton.

I am sure our present mayor has one office again.

REAL SCOUTING DONE BY FORMER ALEXANDRIA BOY ON ARIZONA DESERT

Spends Several Days Far From City and Takes Part In Government Study of Wild Life—Tells Scouts New and Palatable Camp Food Easy To Prepare.

Newark Boy Scouts who are interested in the outdoors feature of the scout program will read with interest this letter written by a Alexandria young man, who is now holding an important position with the University at Tucson, Arizona.

The letter was written by Howard Hubbard and it tells of what might be termed the preliminary work of the requirements for a merit badge in camping, which requires that a scout shall have spent 50 nights in the open air in a canvas shelter and know numerous other bits of camp lore.

Young Hubbard spent several days far from the haunts of man, working with a government expert who is getting first hand information on the habits of some Arizona animals and their relation to crop and range damage.

It was really a scout hike of several "overnights," but Hubbard and his companion, Prof. Vorhies, were living close to nature during those days in the open. The letter to Hubbard's mother follows:

"This is to wish you a Happy New Year, although it is a day after. We did not get back from our trip till today after noon. We had planned to leave here on Wednesday, but Professor Vorhies was delayed a day, so we did not start till 10 a. m. on Thursday. After a two hours' ride for nearly 40 miles, we reached the Forester's Cabin, where I have spent so many happy days with Professor Vorhies.

"The forester's cabin is now occupied by a family from the east, so we had other quarters in the form of an army tent 16x16 feet. This we succeeded in making quite comfortable in the daytime and the evening. A stovepipe hole had been cut in one side, and we proceeded to set up a stove. This was an old stove that had been thrown away by the university, since the bottom had been burned out. Professor Vorhies had devised a scheme for placing it on a platform of rock and sand, so it got along very well without a bottom, and warmed our tent up most comfortably. At night we retired to a little 9x7 tent used in storing hay for the forester's horse. The hay furnished us a comfortable bed. We had debated whether we would use the two canvas cots in the larger tent, but decided in favor of the hay. A canvas cot is most uncomfortable unless you have as much or more bedding beneath you as you have on top. On the other hand you can sleep quite comfortably on the ground with only a blanket or two under you, if you are well covered.

"We arrived at the mouth of the canyon, where the tent is located, about noon. We were invited to dinner by Mrs. Bailey. Mr. Bailey is connected with the United States Biological Survey, and has made for himself a national reputation, having written an authoritative handbook on the birds of the southwest. They usually spend their winters in Washington, D. C., but are in Arizona for the winter. They, too, live in an army tent. Half of it was their living apartment. Here stood the bed, the stove and a study table. They ate and cooked outdoors, since the weather has been ideal for camping this winter.

"The other half of the tent was a zoological museum. Here were cages of various sizes where the captured rodents were kept. These cages were all hand made from wire netting and stakes. Each cage was provided with a wheel or a disk on which the rat could run and thus get the proper amount of exercise. Professor Vorhies has been working with these desert rats for some time but was astonished to see what a real single handkerchief that did not have a hole eaten in it. If he came upon an animal he at once captured it to study its habits. His handkerchief made a convenient cage. Certain species of the ground rats can not endure the low temperature of our Arizona nights unless protected. Mr. Bailey always had a convenient cage for these when captured. They were put inside his shirt. Here they were safely engaged and kept at the proper temperature till he got to his tent, where he could prepare a bed from a rolled oats box.

"Thursday we worked a short time putting up the stove in the tent, and then went out to set some traps where Professor Vorhies is doing some experiments which were much enjoyed for mental work. Coming in we shot four quail which were enjoyed for supper that night.

"Friday we worked all forenoon on the tent. It was quite homelike by noon, with boards around the bottom, and a good door. That was the last day of the quail season, so in the afternoon we visited the traps and spent some time hunting. We came in with 17 quail and two cottontails. It was after dark when we reached the camp. We certainly appreciated the warm tent. A rousing fire was built in the stove, and we went to work cleaning the game. It was about nine that night before we were ready to sit down to our dinner of potatoes, quail and gravy.

It may not sound interesting, but there were two fellows who were vitally interested in the matter for some minutes.

"Saturday the Baileys went out with us to the held. Some time was spent in looking at the traps, and the rest of the day was used in digging out a kangaroo rat or rather in digging into his home. Professor Vorhies is interested in studying the effect of these animals on the range. They store supplies, so it is easy to see what grasses are destroyed by a single rat. For dinner Mr. Bailey cooked for us some cabbages (the accent is on the last syllable). A cabob is made by stringing on a green branch pieces of beef, bacon and onion cut about an inch square. You repeat in this order till the cabob is about a foot longer. Cooking a catch is a fine art, and one not known to any tenderfoot. A glowing bed of coals (Continued on Page 10, Col. 2.)

HOW TO "BE FIT" AT SIXTY

BY DR. LEE HERBERT SMITH.

As our boys "came marching home," they brought a certain red-blooded doctrine, and showed us the glory of a perfect body. They will show us how to "keep fit," even if we have passed middle life and are beyond the athletic stage. For the tired business man, the man who feels the daily grind and the nightly fag, has meager appetite, headaches, nerves unstrung, is gloomy, ending in a soggy brain, try the right way. Get out of bed, open the window, breathe deeply, exercise the army "setting-up" exercise or use dumb bells, until in a warm glow.

Before breakfast take hot water, and occasionally castor oil or a pleasant laxative made up of May-apple, aloin, jalap, and sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

As Prof. Strauss says, "The excretion of uric acid we are able to effect by exciting diuresis." Drink copiously of soft rain or distilled water, six or eight glasses per day, hot water before meals, and obtain Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets, for 60 cts., at the nearest drug store and take them three times a day. If you want a trial package send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Anuric" (anti-uric-acid) is the recent discovery of Dr. Pierce and is much more potent than lithia, for it will dissolve uric acid as hot tea dissolves sugar.

Thirty Years of Growth and Success

Have shown conclusively that one per cent margin is sufficient to pay all the expenses of this company and provide a comfortable surplus.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been deposited with us to build Columbus homes and all of this money has been loaned on first mortgage security, at one-half of the intrinsic value of the real estate.

These loans have enabled us—indeed, required of us, in all fairness—to pay SIX PER CENT TO DEPOSITORS.

The Columbian loans the depositors' money on first mortgage security on real estate—the best security in the world—at seven per cent, leaving a margin to the company to cover its services for placing the money safely.

The difference between what the company pays for the use of the depositors' money and what the company receives for the loan of this money is sufficient to meet all expenses and lay aside a substantial reserve.

SIX MONTHS OF SUCCESS

This company's flexible plan has been in operation for six months, giving the depositor the advantage of the increased earning power of his money, and the company has been benefited by a large increase in business.

Through this flexible plan, operated in all fairness, the depositor and the company are both benefited, and more people can get money with which to build Columbus homes.

"Shameful Neglect" Of Our Disabled Dough-Boys

Not niggardliness but mismanagement is behind the fact that thousands of our disabled soldiers of the Great War "are still waiting, exploited, neglected, forgotten, for the draft of honor to be redeemed." The Public Health Service, according to Harold A. Littledale, of the New York Evening Post, is months behind in dealing with urgent appeals from disabled soldiers needing treatment, as is also the Bureau of War-Risk Insurance in payments. The Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph, quotes Col. Frederick W. Galbraith, Jr., National Commander of the American Legion, as saying that "10,000 disabled veterans are quartered in cellars, poor-houses, and insane asylums."

IS A CHILD'S LIFE WORTH $10 TO YOU?

When Mr. Herbert Hoover wrote to The Literary Digest in October, telling of the desperate condition of a half million children in Europe, and of the threatened interruption of the work of his organization because its resources would be exhausted in January, he said that he had asked other American organizations to lift the further responsibility of this work from his shoulders, but that up to that time none of them had felt able to assume the gigantic task.

The Literary Digest was profoundly stirred by the call of this great emergency and decided to consecrate its entire energy to the task of arousing the American people to uphold Mr. Hoover's hands in this life saving work. We immediately published in our issue of October 30, an editorial appeal entitled "The Slaughter of the Innocents," and called for prompt subscriptions by our own readers and Americans everywhere to the Child-Feeding Fund, urgently needed, starting the Fund ourselves with a large cash contribution. On the very first appearance of this appeal President-elect Harding gave a wonderful impetus to the Fund by his splendid telegram of endorsement, and his contribution of $2,500 to care for 250 starving children.

We published the appeal in more than three hundred leading newspapers throughout the United States and telegraphed to more than two thousand newspapers urging their editorial support, which was royally given. Immediately following this nation-wide appeal, which The Digest has continued intensively and without interruption every week for three months, the heart, and mind, and proper pride of America responded to the call the members as well as the officers of other great benevolent organizations felt that this was also their opportunity, the difficulties which Mr. Hoover had previously experienced disappeared, and he found it possible to complete a consolidation of eight of the greatest relief organizations in the country for a combined campaign to collect the $23,000,000 needed to feed the starving children of Europe and to provide medical supplies and work.

State and city organizations were quickly formed in every part of the Union, and the money began pouring in from the American people who are now thoroughly aroused. Nearly half of the total $23,000,000 is now raised; but the other half is urgently needed within the next 30 days to be effective. Remember, $10 saves the life of one child. Every American whose eye rests on these words should not let a single day pass without sending a contribution for this life saving work. We are asking all our readers to cooperate in every possible way with the local organizations and to send their contributions to their State Treasurer instead of direct to The Literary Digest, because it is impossible to continue printing the long lists of contributors in the overcrowded columns of The Literary Digest.

Give generously and give promptly to this emergency relief to save the lives of Europe's starving children. The name and address of your State Treasurer is Foster Copeland, 243 N. High St., Columbus, Ohio.

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, January 22, 1921, presents facts that will astonish the American public and which have been incorporated by the American Legion in a dispassionate memorial to the President, the President-elect, the Congress, and the people of the United States. The causes of the present regrettable condition and a remedy for it are carefully shown.

It has been the experience of the CHAMPION housewife that she had gas to do all her cooking even when her neighbor could not boil water. She also found that she could meet her husband each day with a smile because she had no worries with her stove. No matter what the gas situation was, she always knew that there was coal or wood to fall back on in case the gas was turned off.

The CHAMPION COMBINATION RANGE is a perfect cooking machine with any of the three fuels.
